

Six Astons to contest the 2013 Continental Tire Sports Car Challenge

There will be six Aston Martin Vantage GS cars competing in the 2013 Continental Tire Sports Car Challenge this year which starts this weekend at the Daytona International Speedway. Four cars are being entered by Multimatic Motorsports, one by Aston Martin partner team TRG and one through Automatic Racing.

Aston Martin Racing works drivers, Darren Turner and Stefan Mucke, will be racing the TRG entered car and with strong entries from the other teams, there is a good chance that an Aston Martin will win the championship this year. The cars have already proven their pace with two of the Multimatic cars topping the timesheets at the Rolex 24 test earlier this month.

The Aston Martin Vantage GS is fundamentally a standard Vantage GT4 but with some minor modifications to meet the US series regulations. For more information about Aston Martin race cars please visit www.astonmartin.com/racing/aston-martin-race-cars or contact jwalters@astonmartinracing.com.

2013 Continental Tire Sports Car Challenge Calendar

January 25	Daytona International Speedway	Daytona, Florida
March 2	Circuit of the Americas	Austin, Texas
April 6	Barber Motorsports Park	Birmingham, Alabama
April 20	Road Atlanta	Atlanta, Georgia
June 15	Mid-Ohio Sports Car Course	Lexington, Ohio
June 29	Watkins Glen International	Watkins Glen, New York
July 26	Indianapolis Motor Speedway	Indianapolis, Indiana
August 10	Road America	Elkhart Lake, Wisconsin
August 17	Kansas Speedway	Kansas City, Kansas
September 8	Mazda Raceway Laguna Seca	Monterey, California
September 27/28	Lime Rock Park	Lakeville, Connecticut